Texas - home Insurance - Regulatory

Document ID: IBD-TX-home-Regulatory | Version: 1.0
Jurisdiction: Texas (TX) | Prepared UTC: 2026-11-11
Authority: Internal operating standards | Legal source status: Not verified

Regulatory review register

Jurisdiction: Texas (TX). Line: Home. Owner: Legal and Regulatory Affairs. Status: Pending jurisdictional verification. This register identifies research and approval tasks, not enacted requirements. No government publication, legal citation, or regulatory approval has been fabricated.

State insurance authority

Locate the current Texas insurance regulator through the National Association of Insurance Commissioners directory at https://content.naic.org/state-insurance-departments. Consult the regulator's official publications and the state's official statutes and administrative rules. The directory is a discovery source, not evidence that an individual rule applies.

Line-specific research

Validate policy-form and deductible disclosures; wind, hail, flood, and earthquake communications; replacement-cost and valuation requirements; inspection restrictions; mortgage-interest notices; cancellation and nonrenewal protections; catastrophe moratoria or emergency orders; and any residual-market requirements. No catastrophe order or coverage mandate is asserted here.

Other government authorities

Determine whether motor vehicle, labor or workers compensation, building or fire, emergency management, privacy, and other authorities have relevant jurisdiction. Evaluate federal requirements only when the entity, transaction, information use, and product meet the applicable scope. Avoid treating every listed authority as applicable to every insured.

Requirement record schema

For each verified requirement, record the issuing authority, official title and URL, citation, publication and effective dates, jurisdiction, applicable entity and product, obligation, trigger, deadline calculation, exceptions, required evidence, control owner, and legal approver. Leave unverified fields unresolved rather than filling them with inferred values.

Change monitoring and release

Monitor official Texas publications, bulletins, emergency orders, and relevant federal changes on an approved schedule. Record superseded versions and the impact on Home forms, rates, notices, systems, and staff guidance. Release operational changes only after documented legal approval and testing.

Interpretation and conflict resolution

Do not answer a legal-requirement question from this register alone. Retrieve the verified primary source and applicable approved requirement record. Escalate conflicts between internal guidance, contract wording, and law. Internal underwriting preferences must never be cited as government mandates.